Students find aid abundant

Approximately 150 scholarships are awarded to students for their freshman and sophomore years. These awards increase attendance, encourage academic achievement and support students financially.

"Tyler Junior College has had a long history of providing scholarships for students who have need of financial help and who have had good high school records and are deserving of scholarship aid," said C. C. Baker Jr., associate vice president of development and college relations.

A scholarship committee meets in March each year to award scholarships for the following fall semester. This committee, appointed by TJC President Dr. Raymond M. Hawkins, must make decisions in accordance with each scholarship donor's requests.

"When you have people donating $25,000 each, it shows they have a lot of confidence in the college and the students," Baker said. "We have a lot of community support."

Scholarships are awarded based on financial need, athletic ability, music and arts skills and academic achievement.

"This year for the first time, we instituted several new scholarships for outstanding high school students," said R. H. Clemmons Jr., student financial aid director.

Six academically talented high school graduates entering TJC this semester received the first Presidential Scholarships and five received Dean Scholarships. Presidentials pay $2,000 a year and Dean awards provide $1,000 a year.

In addition to these, many $500 Brady P. Gentry Scholarships are awarded to deserving students. These scholarships are presented without regard for financial need.

Students who are on academic scholarships will have a chance to reapply for their sophomore year.

"These scholarships are an excellent incentive for students to continue their high academic work," Baker said.

TJC awards scholarships so students can spend more time concentrating on school and less time working, Baker said.

Students interested in receiving scholarships should talk to a counselor and pick up an application, Clemmons said. Applications should be turned in by March 1, 1984.

Seminars to continue with Brazzle

Counselor and Testing Coordinator Reggie Brazzle will discuss the purpose and uses of aptitude and interest testing Tuesday at the next seminar. The session will include how individuals can use test results to make career decisions.

Brazzle will speak in Browne Theatre from 10 to 10:50 a.m. and from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Brazzle is a member of various professional organizations, including the Texas State Teachers Association and the Piney Woods Association for Counseling and Development.

Counselor Mary Peddy will discuss "Reaching Your Potential" Nov. 13 in the last seminar this fall. It will center on factors which nurture high achievement, characteristics which high achievers have in common and how to develop those specific traits in yourself.

Browne Theatre will open for this seminar from 10 to 10:50 a.m. and from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Peddy is a graduate of Mississippi State College with extensive background in counseling and guidance.

The seminar series was planned by Counselor Dr. Alan Barnes. They are open to anyone in the Tyler area although they were specifically planned to help TJC students make the adjustment to college life.

"We hope these seminars help students learn there is something to learn outside the classroom as well as in class," Barnes said.

Some of the seminars will be repeated next semester, Barnes said.

French class shares meal

Students enjoy French breakfast

First year French took a tasty turn as the class met for breakfast and entertainment last week in the home economics cooking lab. French Instructor Dr. Elaine Graybill presided over the early morning meal which included such delicacies as individual quiches, apricot pastries and spiced tea.

Mickey Holt, a student in Graybill's evening class, prepared the foods. "Bringing the food in with all this rain was the only difficult thing to deal with," Holt said of her part in the event.

Other students prepared decorations and entertainment. The class includes some 30 persons of all ages and backgrounds, Graybill explained. Some have taken several years of French in high school and other are just starting fresh.

Student Michal Sparks who took two years of French in high school, spent a month in France last summer through the University of Texas at Tyler language study program. She visited the University of Metz and then traveled to Paris for four days.

"We attended classes in the morning and toured the city at night," Sparks said. A lot of people speak English in France, she said, which is good, "because I took two years of French in high school and still don't speak it well."

After breakfast entertainment included a flute solo by Traci Williams and vocal renditions by Debra Presly and Roger Pharr.

Annual shots set

Photographers started taking pictures for the Student Senate sponsored annual Monday. Organizations who are included in the yearbook should fill out a time form to reserve a slot for their club's pictures, said Student Activities Director Emma Lou Prater.

Each club is allowed one page, and they may use it any way they want to, Prater said.

Student Senate Secretary Debby De Masi said organizations who want to have a picture they already have in the yearbook should turn it in with their time forms.

"We have to make sure they're OK to be printed," said De Masi. Organizations may also have their pictures taken the day of the Campus Walk if they wish.

Student Senate's annual Fall Blood drive was held recently. A total of 237 pints were donated by students and faculty.

Delta Upsilon won the fraternity division and led the blood drive with 51 pints. Sans Soucis beat their opponents with 31 pints and the Cheerleaders won in the organization category.

"It takes 135 pints a day to keep a blood bank going," Prater said. "They really appreciated our support."

Everyone's vote is important

The right to vote is one of the most basic rights in a free democratic society such as ours. Voting is not only a right, however. It is a responsibility which should be taken seriously, but many choose to neglect this responsibility.

Many excuses are offered by those who choose to ignore their responsibility and don't vote. One of the most common is "my vote doesn't count." This is true only if the vote is not cast.

Many students seem to take strong interests in issues surrounding elections, especially those on the national level such as the upcoming presidential election. Despite this professed interest, most students are uninformed about candidates and the stands they take.

Students often face the added responsibility of having to drive home to vote or to vote by absentee ballot. Both actions require a small sacrifice on the student's part, but this sacrifice pales in comparison with the many other sacrifices made by Americans to preserve our right to vote.

It is up to the citizen to be aware of issues and candidates involved in campaigns, and to cast his ballot for the candidate who best represents his point of view.

The privilege and responsibility of voting should be exercised to the fullest extent by all who are eligible. With an important national election next Tuesday, Nov. 6, and the future of our nation hanging in the balance, this is the time for everyone who thought his vote didn't count to get out and see that it does.

NEWS BRIEFS

College Morning nears

Students interested in continuing their education after TJC will have a chance to find out about 43 different senior colleges from 9:30 a.m. until 11:45 a.m. Monday, Nov. 12, in the Student Center.

Admissions Dean Kenneth Lewis encourages all sophomores who will graduate or transfer and intend to go to a senior institution to attend College Morning.

Included among the colleges scheduled to appear are: Baylor University, Southern Methodist University, Texas A&M University, Texas Tech University and University of Texas at Austin.

Withdrawal dates arrive

Students may withdraw from a class either through tomorrow and receive a grade of W. Withdrawals may be initiated by the student or instructor.

Students planning to withdraw from a class after this, the 10th week of school, until the end of the 14th week Nov. 30, can expect a W or WF, as determined by his or her instructor, says Admissions Dean Kenneth Lewis.

The grade of W or WF will be determined as of the last date of attendance.

Students who withdraw after Nov. 30 will receive whatever letter grade they have earned in the course.

Registration to begin

Early registration will be from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. Nov. 12 through 15 in Wagstaff Gym.

Students need a registration form and time permit before they may register. Time permits may be obtained from the Admissions/Registrar Office from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, said Admissions Dean Kenneth Lewis.

Students taking mathematics and or English for the first time at TJC must have a counselor's signature giving permission to enroll in the course.

Students should have completed a trial schedule on the back of the registration form, Lewis advised.

Tuition and fee payments are required when a student registers. Schedules will not be reserved without payment.

All students new and returning are encouraged to visit with the counseling staff before registering, Lewis said.

When it came time to stand and choose, Lloyd Doggett stood with you.

ELDERLY

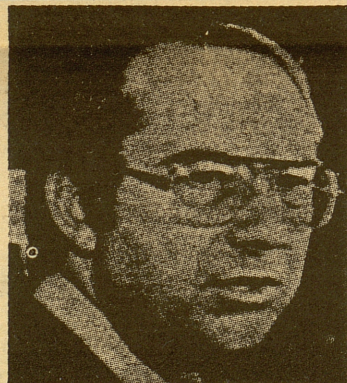

- ★ Lloyd Doggett fought to preserve the fiscal integrity of all Texas retirement systems and believes that Social Security "is a sacred contract we cannot turn our backs on."

EDUCATION

- ★ Lloyd Doggett has always been one of Texas' leading advocates of a first class public education system. As a State Senator, he has been in the forefront of the struggle to improve the quality of teaching for our children.

PUTS TEXAS FIRST

- ★ In his eleven years as a Texas Senator, Lloyd Doggett has always put the needs and concerns of Texas first and the greedy special interests last. Lloyd has written and fought to pass 125 people-helping laws, including the Consumer Protection Act, utility reform, and the Human Rights Commission.

When it came time to stand and choose, Phil Gramm stood against you.

ELDERLY

- ★ Gramm led the fight to cut Social Security benefits out from under the most vulnerable people in our society. In fact, he has voted against Social Security on at least eight occasions.

EDUCATION

- ★ Gramm has been relentless in his efforts to remove all Federal assistance to education, going so far as to exclaim that educational assistance to the handicapped "(encourages) people to be handicapped."

PUTS TEXAS LAST

- ★ Gramm's record stands as a monument to callousness and insensitivity to the needs and concerns of ordinary Texans. He voted against helping drought-stricken Texas farmers and ranchers, border businesses hurt by the peso devaluation, and against loans to small businesses across Texas.

Let's Keep Judge Ruth Blake

Judge Blake Increases Court Income By 28%

In her first eleven months in office, Judge Ruth Blake assessed $387,000.00 in fines and court costs. That represents the disposition of 1,073* cases. And it's a 28% increase in revenues over the preceding eleven months.

What does that mean to you? For one thing, it means offenders are paying more for their misdeeds. For another, it means a $387,000.00 income to the county not payable by the taxpayers.

Please consider Judge Blake's record when you vote November 6.

Students to elect queen

Students will select a homecoming queen Wednesday by popular vote. Elections will take place in front of the Student Center or, in the case of bad weather, inside the Student Center.

Thirty-one nominees have been selected by campus organizations.

"She may be either a freshman or sophomore, but must be a full-time student," said Student Activities Director Emma Lou Prater. Each organization must pay a $10 fee for its nominee's corsage.

Nominees are: Karen Appleby, West Hall; Febrina Bell, Respiratory Therapy; Julie Bouchard, Lewis Hall; Polly Bruck, TJC Football; Alice

Cooper, Alpha Tau Alpha; Debbie De Masi, Student Senate; Allison Edwards, Claridge Hall; Sarah Fox, Pi Kappa Alpha; Karen Futrell, Hudnall Hall; Ericka Harkey, Texas Eastern School of Nursing; Susan Helms, Apache Cheerleaders; Theresa C. Hughes, Fashion Merchandising; Debbie Johnson, TJC News; Judy Latta, Zeta Phi Omega; Amy Mills, Apache Band and Cheryl Munchie, Las Mascaras/Delta Phi Omega.

Others are: Loretta Nays, Alpha Delta Sigma; Julie Pepe, Catholic Students Organization; Lori Poulan, Baptist Student Union; Stephanie Powell, Sans Souci; Dana Rader, Association of Baptist Students; Robin Robb, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Katrina

Shelby, Bateman Hall; Marcy Shrode, Tri-C; Tanya Smith, Delta Upsilon; Shelly Stahl, Apache Belles; Karen Underwood, Physical Education Club; Chandra Van Zandt, Gospel Choir; Mona Walters, Campus Crusade for Christ; Julie Wilson, TJC Choir and Beth Wright, Epsilon Delta Pi.

Nominees were introduced yesterday just before a Halloween Masquerade Party in the Student Center.

A Campus Walk at 12:30 p.m. Friday Nov. 16 will replace the traditional Homecoming parade.

Five finalists will be announced at Campus Capers.

The queen will be crowned at the Homecoming football game at Rose Stadium.

Advisory group revises program

The Electronics Technician Advisory Committee met last week with representatives from industrial companies such as E-Systems, Harvey Industries, Southwestern Bell and IBM to discuss the direction high technology is headed and how TJC's curriculum can meet these standards.

"These companies help with recruiting students and designing a curriculum that meets the needs of the companies. We are updating the electronics technician curriculum to meet the needs and desires of the industries," said Electronics Coordinator Keith Bridges.

"In these bi-annual meetings we report back to the companies that their previous suggestions are being carried out. We demonstrated two new robots which will be used in the new course in robotics and auto systems," said Bridges.

"We are trying to move the electronics program more to a high technology program. We are updating the names of our courses to give better descriptions. The committee is also designed to help place students in these companies," said Bridges.

THE PRESSURE was on the other side Saturday as the Henderson County Junior College Cardinals smashed TJC 30-7, ruining the Apaches' perfect season record. In this photo, earlier in the season, Jim Green puts pressure on the HCJC quarterback. The situation was definitely different Saturday as the Cardinals evened the season series at 1-1.

Cardinals ruin Tribe's rank, end Apache roll

The Henderson County Junior College Cardinals used key passing and running to defeat the Apaches 30-7 Saturday, probably ruining the Apaches' national ranking. The loss was TJC's first this season and dropped their season record to 7-1 and 5-1 in conference play.

The Apaches scored first, taking the opening kickoff and driving 90 yards for a touchdown. Marvin Allen capped the drive with a 40-yard run to put the Apaches up 7-0.

But the Cardinals scored on a late first quarter run to even the score at 7-7.

HCJC scored two more touchdowns in second quarter to build a lead they never relinquished. Reginald Oaks blocked the extra point on the second HCJC touchdown to leave the halftime score 19-7.

The Cardinals added another touchdown and two-point conversion in the third quarter to give them a 27-7 lead.

HCJC extended their lead to 30-7 after a fourth quarter field goal.

The Apache ground game gained more than 200 yards with Ronnie Ducksworth and Marvin Allen contributing to the rushing total, but turnovers plagued the offensive effort.

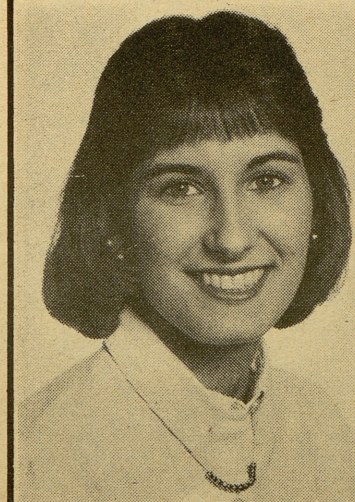

TJC meets Blinn College Saturday at Brenham with the Apaches needing just one win to clinch at least a tie for conference championship.

David Hudson

Texas House of Representatives, District 6

Dear Voters of Smith County,

On election day each one of you will be asked to voice your opinion not only on the candidates, but also on eight constitutional amendments. Of particular importance to Smith County is Amendment Number 2.

Amendment Number 2 deals with the manner in which our institutions of higher learning would be funded. It allows the permanent university fund to be restructured to include all current University of Texas and Texas A & M institutions to benefit from this fund. In addition, a new fund for constructing and equipping buildings and other improvements would be created for institutions of higher learning not in the University of Texas or Texas A & M systems.

All of the state supported senior colleges and universities in Texas support this amendment, including the University of Texas and Texas A & M systems. This amendment will greatly benefit the University of Texas at Tyler and the University of Texas Health Center at Tyler.

While I support all eight amendments, Amendment Number 2 is especially important to those of us who care about higher education.

Sincerely,

David Hudson
State Representative
